FRENCH PLACEMENT

French is part of the AUP General Education requirements and we strongly recommend that you take a French class your first semester to get the most out of your AUP experience in France. To pursue coursework in French, you will need to take our French placement test, unless you are a beginner or hold a French Baccalauréat. If you are a beginner you will automatically be placed into Beginning French.

We use a short online test to determine your capacities in French and then select the right level of French class. You can take the test now and will be immediately given your result after the test.

About my French level: *

- I am a beginner in French and I want to take a French Immersion class.
- I don't intend to participate in French Immersion Program at AUP this summer.
- I want to take a French Immersion class, but I have studied French before. I will take the French placement test to determine my level.

Pre-requisites: College Level=Sophomore OR College Level=Junior OR College Level=Senior
Co-requisites: None

Notes

There is no psychology without philosophy. Whenever we start thinking about psychological issues, be it everyday life or in scientific contexts, we are entangled in philosophical questions. This class looks at a few ways in which the fly can find its way out of the bottle (to use Wittgenstein's description of the aim of philosophy: to show the fly the way out of the bottle). In order to do so, we'll try to get a sense of the long history that psychology and philosophy have in common. Even after their disciplinary division in the first half of the last century this common heritage has lived on. Continuously enriched by modern developments, it has fuelled ongoing discussions on philosophical dimensions and implications of psychology – concerning our understanding of cognition, action, emotion, imagination, mind, body, and brain, to name a few. At the same time, there are central issues in philosophy that reflect and elaborate our understanding of human psychology and the way it is scientifically investigated: consciousness, thought and language, self and identity, and other forms and aspects of human subjectivity and its social, cultural, and historical fabric. This course aims to create an awareness of this interplay.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- What does it mean to take a class “for Audit?”

Course auditors are expected to attend and participate in the course, but are not required to complete class assignments and assessments. Course auditors will be awarded a final grade of “AU” and will not earn credit for the course.

- How to register a class for Audit ?

For the summer term, please check the audit tick box under the course you want to register into on your registration portal. Then do not forget to click on Process Registration.

- Can I change my registration ?

You may drop (and subsequently add) courses online until the end of the drop/add period outlined in the Academic Calendar. Always be aware of the Summer Refund Policy outline below when modifying your schedule.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- What is the difference between dropping and withdrawing from a class ?

You can DROP a class as many times as you want online during registration periods without affecting your transcript. Once registration windows close, you can no longer drop a class.

Once you are no longer able to drop a class, you can WITHDRAW from a class. The course will appear on your transcript and you will be awarded a final grade of “W.” No credit will be earned and the GPA will not be affected.

- How do I withdraw from a class ?

Submit a signed course withdrawal form to the Registrar’s Office before the withdrawal deadline as indicated in the Academic Calendar. Please note that since summer classes are intensive, you will have a limited time to complete this process.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

- What is Credit/No Credit ?

You may designate one course per semester to be graded Credit/No Credit. This option must be chosen no later than the deadline indicated in the Academic Calendar. Once exercised by submitting the Credit / No Credit webform, this option CANNOT be revoked.

If you earn a grade of “C” or above in the course chosen, a final grade of "CR" (Credit) will appear on your transcript. If you earn a grade below a “C,” "NC" (No Credit) will appear on your transcript. Credits so earned will count toward graduation requirements but will not be computed in the grade point average.

It is a student’s responsibility to inquire about the minimum required grades for specific courses/ graduation requirements before choosing the Credit/No Credit grading option.
